About Landpro

But before that, we'll tell you about the role and our business and culture.

Our vision is to be the best little environmental consultancy in the world. Being the best in the world and little might seem at odds with each other, but we believe in being the very best doesn't have to come at the expense of people, partnership and being connected. We are growing and will continue to do so, but never at the expense of the culture we created when we were little – be your best, be collaborative and be honest.

Our guiding purpose is to navigate the many complex environmental challenges our wide and varied client base face, delivering strategic outcomes to secure the future value of their environmental assets. We call this delivering an environmental return. We do this across a wide range of environmental services and cover all aspects of Planning, Environmental Science Land and Aerial Surveying, and Geospatial consulting.

Our people truly are our greatest asset, they are flexible, hard-working and all-round great humans: we care about meeting the needs of each other and our clients. As a company we are focused on fostering long term opportunities for the growth of our people.

The Role:

The LCS role will be responsible for taking a leadership role with our Survey Technicians and also manage their own portfolio of Jobs. With great support from our Regional Survey Lead and Landpro Director, this role would suit a recently licensed surveyor. This said our remuneration and package are scalable to suit the experience and capability of Senior surveyors as well.

The New Plymouth and Cromwell offices are both tight knit teams of surveyors and planners. We enjoy each other and our work, so being a team player and all-round good human is a must.

If you enjoy working with clients in a team environment and managing your own projects from start to finish, this is the job for you!
